Councillor Swallow said that the town to build a new rink.

In speaking to the petition, Mr. Tooley stressed the point that it should be borne in mind that what the petitioners wanted was a new rink.

Mayor Tooley: "As I understand it, the request is for a municipally owned rink, not a privately owned rink."

His Worship added that the matter of building a new rink should be left to the incoming council.

Councillor Wishart: "I think that should be decided soon."

Councillor Oliver suggested that this offer be withdrawn and let the people decide whether the Wapiti Rink be purchased or a new rink be constructed.

WILL THE BRITISH NAVY BLOCKADE SPAIN AGAINST VOLUNTEERS?

The significant news that the British Home Fleet will sail to the Mediterranean to join the British Mediterranean Fleet this month would suggest that Great Britain may set into motion a semi-blockade off the Spanish coast. The unsatisfactory replies of Germany and Italy to British requests that volunteer movements to Spain should cease may have caused the British government to adopt this method of action. At any rate, the massing of 105 British war vessels along the Spanish coast will cause a good deal of diplomatic scurrying within the next few weeks.

HOLLAND IN FESTIVE MOOD AS PRINCESS WEDS

It isn't every day that Holland has a royal wedding, so preparations for the union of Crown Princess Juliana and Prince Bernhard von Lippe-Biesterfeld started long before the gala event. They are shown above as they appeared at the burgomaster's office to obtain their license. Reports are current that Queen Wilhelmina plans to abdicate in favor of her daughter within a short time, but these have been frequently denied. Streets of the city of The Hague presented a festive appearance after citizens decorated the city with flags and banners carrying the initials of the newlyweds and the royal colors.

VICEROY OF INDIA HAS DELICATE PROBLEM TO HANDLE

On April 1 the new constitution of India becomes effective in the east Indian Empire. It took Great Britain more than eight years to prepare a constitution which grants India self-rule with certain reservations. Lord Linlithgow and his Nationalists are not satisfied with it in its present form. They do not wish to have any reservations, but to be entirely self-ruling. Because of the acute religious differences which the British government does not see how complete self-rule will work at present and as a result of fact only the presence of British police is a safety valve on a volatile volcano of religious strife. Above are pictures of Lord Linlithgow (right) Viceroy of India, and Mahatma Gandhi, the spiritual leader. In the center is a map of India, which gives a graphic description of the problem faced by the Viceroy and the British government. The area in white is British ruled, while the black area with a population of 75,000,000 is under the ruling princes.

MAIN FORECASTING POINT

Weather Observers To Be Stationed At Lethbridge, Alberta

Lethbridge will be the main weather forecasting point between Vancouver and Winnipeg when the Trans-Canada air mail is inaugurated, according to a special dispatch received from Ottawa by the Lethbridge Herald. A full staff of weather observers will be stationed there, and the Ottawa report and forecasts will be prepared every three hours.

ANOTHER OF LESTER PATRICK'S FINDS

When Lester Patrick picked up a new forward line for his New York Rangers he helped himself to three more. The Colville brothers and St. Louis (above) made up the new line and they show every indication of becoming another Cook-Bencher line. St. Louis is a tall, rangy, power and exceedingly dangerous around the goal. He helps the Colville boys make up a perfect combination.

A MEMBER OF THE STAR "KID" LINE

Mae Colville is one of the important members of the new "kid" line which Lester Patrick of the Rangers has developed, and which is one of the highest scoring lines in the N.H.L. Although this is their first year in major company, the Colville brothers already have firmly established themselves on the road to glory, so long traveled by the famous Cook brothers. They had from western Canada and are two of the best forwards to join the N.H.L. in many a long year.

AS OPERA SEASON GOT UNDER WAY

Opening of a season which promises to be one of the most brilliant in the history of the Metropolitan Opera Company was an occasion for mutual congratulations between this noted trio. AT SPIRIT RIVER BONSPIEL
SEXSMITH, Jan. 19.—Two pinkies from the Sexsmith Curling Club journeyed to Spirit River on Tuesday's train to take part in the bonspiel there. Mr. C. Howard, whom we believe is the most consistent visitor to the Spirit River bonspiel, is taking a pink along with him, and Mr. Dan Innes is the other ship. May both bring home the bacon, and what goes with it.

BECOMES SWEET SIXTEEN
Miss Gwen Wilson, who reached the advanced age of 16 last Sunday, celebrated by having a few friends in for dinner. In the old days, this was the age for the girls to let their skirts down and put their hair up, but not even grandma does that now.
We wish to congratulate Gwen on attaining this age of wisdom.

TEEPEE CREEK
TEEPEE CREEK, Jan. 7.—After a good holiday, school opened on Monday, January 4, with a small attendance on account of the storm.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell spent their holidays at Mrs. Maxwell's parents at North Kieweenaw.

Mr. Rev. Joslin and friend were Saturday evening visitors at Geo. Love's.

Mr. H. Conrad is in the neighborhood looking for horses to buy.

Mr. Jan Maxwell from Wetsaskwin is here visiting his brother, Wm. Maxwell.

Among those on the sick list are Henry Pink and Harold Love.

Mr. Mord Norman and family were visitors in North Kieweenaw on Thursday.

Mrs. Norman of North Kieweenaw is a holiday visitor at her daughters, Mrs. H. Love, and her son, M. Norman.

LEG-IN ACTIVITIES
Teopos Creek Branch, No. 135

TEEPEE CREEK, Jan. 14.—The dance and draw for the seven-tube radio was held as advertised, in the Teopos Creek school-house, and was a decided success, the floor being filled capacity each dance. George McCauley, as M.C., kept things humming to such good effect that very few thought it out of place when the "House Sweet Home" went at 3 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott McQuillan, assisted by Holmes, made a pleasure class orchestra, and dancing a pleasure. After lunch the stunts were contested in the safe keeping of an eight-man creamery crew, the lid closed and an invitation given to those present to come up and shake it. Charlie White gave it a thorough shaking and, after shaking it, the crowd proceeded, were satisfied to nominate some one not connected with the Legion to take the draw for the winning ticket, the draw to be "sudden death".

The popular young lady in charge of the ticket sale, Miss Doyle, was the unanimous choice, and with a red silk scarf as a blindfold, she brought out ticket number 97, sold by Geo. McCauley to the holder, Tom Nelson of the district, who on presentation of the winning ticket received title to the new radio, complete, for the sum of one dollar.

Some achieve fortune so easily, while others are so near—and yet so far. The holders of the tickets on each side of the winning number were Oscar Mackey with number 90, and Bill Goodrich with number 98. Miss Doyle's own ticket, by the way, was number 112, so she was at least warm.

This gives us the chance of pointing out the astrological science of finding out your lucky number. In Mr. Nelson's case, number 97, and added them together, which gives us 16, now add the one and six together, and we get seven, which according to all the mystic and stars should be Tom's lucky number for the rest of his life.
